

creating connections for life

Matthijs Holstvoogd

Senior Vice President,
Global Human Resources

BIOGRAPHY

Matthijs Holstvoogd is Senior Vice President of Global Human Resources at Molex and a member of the company's Global Leadership Team.

In this role, Matthijs provides strategic leadership to align HR initiatives with Molex's vision and business objectives, fostering a principle-based culture across a diverse, global workforce. He drives the development and execution of strategies to attract, develop, and retain top talent while supporting a culture of continuous improvement and mutual benefit. Serving as a trusted advisor to executive leadership, Matthijs ensures HR strategy advances Molex's commitment to operational excellence, integrity, and long-term value creation.

Previously, Matthijs served as Vice President of Human Resources for Molex's Datacom and Specialty Solutions (DSS) division. He guided the DSS global HR team in aligning to the company Vision and continuous development of the division's talent.

Matthijs joined Molex in 2008 as an HR Manager based in the Eindhoven, Netherlands office. Since then, he has taken on HR roles of increasing responsibility, including assignments in Molex's Lisle, Illinois, headquarters and Taipei, Taiwan.

Matthijs earned an MS in Organizational Sociology from Erasmus University Rotterdam, a Master of Strategic HR Management from ISBW in Houten, and a bachelor's degree in economics and law from HES Rotterdam. He currently resides in Chicago with his wife.