Register as a supplier with Molex

Hello!

_____ has invited you to register to become a supplier with Molex. Start by creating an account with SAP Business Network. It's free.

Molex uses two systems to collaborate with suppliers:

- SAP Business Network to manage direct procurement (sourcing and purchases of goods and services directly related to customer manufactured products)
- Coupa to manage indirect procurement (sourcing and purchases of goods and services not directly related to production, such as office supplies, facility management, consultants, technology, Marketing, lab supplies, etc.)

All suppliers will require a SAP Business Network account for onboarding. If already has an account, sign in with your username and password.

For SAP Business Network help, see the Molex Global Procurement Help page.

Registering an account from a Molex Invitation

Once the Molex internal team submits the onboarding request, the Supplier Onboarding team will review the request and send an SAP Ariba registration invitation to the Digital Champion's email address. The invitation email contains a registration link to create or access an account on the SAP Business Network (Ariba).

1. Suppliers receive a Molex SAP Business Network invitation email with a registration link.
2. Suppliers can choose to log in with an existing account or create a new account.
3. If creating a new account, a One-Time Password (OTP) is sent to the registered email for verification.
4. Suppliers complete the mandatory profile information to finish the registration process.
5. A standard supplier account is created with access to Ariba Proposals and Questionnaires

Access to the registration forms is restricted to the individual who received the official email invitation. Only the invited recipient can complete and submit the registration.
